From One Corner of the World to Another

"The Bible is not the basis of missions; missions is the basis of the Bible."

-Ralph Winter

Our mission in working with college students in Eastern NC is to turn lost students into Christ-centered laborers. We want to see the Great Commission fulfilled and we are praying that the Lord will use our students here to reach people who don't know Him throughout the whole world. This summer, we saw that very thing begin to happen.

RALEIGH, NC

Nyshel was one of two students from ENC who participated in a summer mission trip in Raleigh. While working at the YMCA, she got to talk with a counselor named Matt. He started expressing things that had happened to him in his life and said that while he grew up in a church, he wasn't committed to living for Jesus and needed proof that Jesus was alive. Nyshel shared the Gospel with Matt and while he didn't place his faith in Christ, seeds were planted!

SENEGAL, WEST AFRICA

While Ed and his team left Senegal, 25 other students stayed for the remainder of the summer, including two of our students from ENC and one former student from Kentucky. Overall, the Gospel was shared 233 times and one person made a decision for Christ! This is a huge deal in an area of the world so steeped in Islam where making a decision to follow Christ may mean being shunned by your family and friends. Also, one of our students is seriously considering doing a one year mission trip back to Senegal after he graduates.

SOUTHEAST ASIA

Britt and Kim (names changed for protection) are two twin girls who were students of ours when we were serving in Kentucky. We met them when they were freshmen, April was able to disciple one of them, and we saw the Lord use them greatly in college. They graduated, attended graduate school where they continued to make a difference, got "real world" jobs, but have recently decided to do a sports internship (mission project) in Southeast Asia teaching English classes in high school and leading sports clinics on college campuses through a partnership with their church in the US.

They just recently had their first Gospel conversation with one of the teachers. She was asking them a lot of questions and wants to read Scripture with them next week!

In addition to these, we also had current and former students serving in Lebanon and Charleston, SC. Thank you for being a part of impacting the whole world!

Prayer Requests:

- We had a safe trip to Colorado and back - the girls were troopers!
- Pray for energy, strength, and wisdom as we kickoff the crazy fall semester in two weeks. Pray that God would move, open doors, bring favor from the administration, and fruit would be produced!
- Pray for us as we seek to followup with everyone who wants to hear more about having a relationship with Christ. Pray that God would work on their hearts and show them their need for Him. Pray for all the freshman who will be coming to campus in the fall. Pray that we would be able to effectively reach each of them.
